WESTWARD HO!

THE PROPERTY OF THE WEST END LAND COMPANY.

HOW ITS LOTS ARE SITUATED

Commanding Position of the Property Grand and Beautiful Scenery on All Sides--The Improvements Already Made--Chances to Secure a Home.

"Westward the star of empire makes its way," and in the growth of cities the trend is often in the same direction. Roanoke especially has proven no exceptions to the general rule as all know who are at all acquainted with the growth and progress of the metropolis of the southwest.

Where there are so many beautiful and healthy building sites it is hard to tell where the best places are, but a careful study of the situation shows that the property of the West End Land Company is the most eligible for building purposes in the city, and the rush of improvements in that quarter demonstrates the truth of this statement beyond cavil.

The managers of the company from its organization have shown not only a full appreciation of the advantages they possess in the matter of location but have from the beginning exhibited a foresight which is already yielding them golden fruits.

The property is located in the central western part of the city, as the name indicates, and the view of the mountains north, south and west, and of the city to the east is sublimely beautiful. The towering peaks of the Blue Ridge and Alleghany mountains loom up in heavy outlines against the sky with rolling ground and valleys intervening. Eastward stands the city, a monument of enterprise, activity and refinement in its smoking furnaces, rushing trains and grand and stately edifices.

A street railway line connects the property with the business portions of the city, and before another year rolls by will be a dummy line passing through or near its borders to the sister city of Salem. A handsome boulevard over a hundred feet in width, planted with quick-growing shade trees on its sides and center passes more than a mile in length from east to west throughout the property, while numerous streets and avenues laid off with an especial view to proper drainage cross and intersect each other at various points. Many handsome edifices have already been constructed there, and numerous other commodious and tasteful dwellings are in the course of construction, all showing the popularity of the West end as a place for residences and the superior character of the buildings already completed there or in the course of erection.

From the day upon which the West End addition was first put upon the market up to the present time, there has been a ready and constant sale of lots, and unless those who desire the best and most beautiful location in the city as their places of residence, make haste to apply to Messrs. James S. Simmons & Co., they will miss chances for obtaining the same which they will ever afterwards have cause to regret.

A Paper Mill in Roanoke.
A paper mill would be a great addition to the industries of this city, and whoever starts one here will be amply rewarded pecuniarily for their enterprise and foresight. It would furnish a good market for the straw of farmers in this section, and the owners would find a ready sale for the paper they could manufacture in the southwest.
Mr. Charles L. Crum, a successful paper manufacturer of Winchester, left for his home yesterday after a stay of some days in this city, and it is sincerely hoped that this visit had relation to an enterprise of that kind, and that the result will be the location of a paper mill here under his management.

A NEW MOVEMENT.

Lots of the Glade Land Company to be sold at Auction.

The construction of the dummy line, and the ease with which access can now be had to Roanoke, has made land in the vicinity of Vinton exceedingly valuable, and caused a great demand for property in that vicinity.
The land of the Glade company, for which W. M. Yager & Co., are sole agents, adjoins Vinton, and lies directly on the dummy line. The land can be purchased at a variety of prices, suited to the pockets of everybody.

It is beautifully located.
It is high and undulating and commands a magnificent view from many points.
A number of houses are now being erected upon it and will be occupied by persons working in the city, and a large number of additional homes will be built there during the spring.
If a man only wants to pay twenty-five dollars for a lot, he can find one there, or if he wishes a more desirable site, and can afford as much as $300, he can also be suited. Then, too, if he hasn't the money to pay down immediately, Messrs. Yager & Co., are willing to sell him for a small amount cash, and the balance in easy installments.

The dummy line will also sell him commutation tickets, after he has gotten his house built, or before he desires them for $1.50 per month, a little less than three cents a trip, and more than enough to pay the difference between the cost of living in the city.

Arrangements have also been made to supply Vinton and the land belonging to the Glade company with a first-class system of waterworks.

In order to give the public the benefit of this property, Messrs. Yager & Co., will sell lots of the Glade Land company at auction on the ground every Wednesday and Saturday. The sale of lots will begin each day at 2 o'clock and last until 5 o'clock.
Messrs. Yager & Co., have also made arrangements by which they will give free transportation to the property and back again to all persons desiring of looking at and seeing what bargains it offers, both as a place for a home and for profitable investments.

Tickets over the dummy line will be furnished on application, and the sales will no doubt be attended by a large crowd. They certainly offer chances for bargains.

A Chance for Roanoke.

The scholars of our public schools will be interested in an offer made by The Youth's Companion in its issue of January 9. Its purpose is to stimulate them in a commendable competition and at the same time increase their love for their country. The publishers of The Companion offer to present a fine large bunting flag, 9x15 feet, with forty-two stars to that public school in each one of the forty-two states, which shall send to them the best essay on "The Patriotic Influence of the American Flag When Raised over Our Public Schools." These essays will be received by the publishers of The Companion until April 1, 1900. The award of the flag will be made as near June 1 as possible, in order that the successful school may float the "Stars and Stripes" over its building upon the fourth of July, next.
Essays must not be over 600 words in length.

This movement to interest the young people of the present generation in securing a flag for the school house, is one that should be heartily commended and encouraged. Why cannot one of our own schools secure The Companion flag for this state?
Each essay sent us must be accompanied by the name of the school, the author, and the town and state.

Hastings' Court.
W. O. Hardaway, esq., qualified as an attorney at law.

Comm. Ed. Thomas, alias "General" Lee made a motion to set aside the verdict of the jury, sentencing him to the penitentiary. The question was argued before the court and the motion was sustained, whereupon the commonwealth's attorney entered a nolle prosequi and the prisoner was discharged from custody.

In the case of the commonwealth against Anthony Shaw for felony, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty and sentenced the prisoner to one day in jail and fined him $10. Counsel for the defense made a motion to have the verdict set aside, and judgment was suspended and the prisoner recognized in the sum of $300 to appear before the court this morning at 10 o'clock. Shaw was represented by Judge S. G. Williams and F. H. S.
Morrison, and the commonwealth's interests were looked after by Messrs.
R. A. Scott and John M. Hart.

The first two cases on the docket today are the commonwealth against J. H. Gardner for forgery, and Joseph Flippen for assault with intent to kill.
